THE Planner's CORNER

It is our goal to educate soon-to-be wedding couples.

Welcome to the Planner's Corner! With over 10 year's experience in the Wedding and Event Industry, I feel that it's only fitting to help educate soon-to-be wedding couples.

The Planner's Wedding magazine is where we drop some gems. You just never know what will show up here! It could be a pet peeve or just a wedding fact. Either way, be sure to stop by to see what's up! In this issue I want to share a Planner's tip:

If you hire a PWP OR CWP (Professional Wedding Planner or Certified Wedding Planner) please give them the courtesy of allowing them to do what you've paid them to do, their JOB. I've been in this business for over 10 years and there's nothing worse than having a client attempt to do your job. Trust me, I understand how excited you are about getting married, heck, I was the same way.

However, if you've hired a professional, just trust that they will definitely get the job done.

“I saw that you
were perfect,
and so I loved
you. Then I saw that you were not perfect and I loved you even more.”

THE ENGAGEMENT

BY TAMESHA KINLOCH-CARTER

From the moment you say "YES", to the moment you say, "I DO", it's an emotional rollercoaster. With all the excitement that comes with the initial engagement, so is the wish for the perfect wedding.

For some, the perfect wedding is a large grand affair, for others it's simple and elegant. Either way, there's quite a few things to consider:

Be Considerate: Make decisions based on preserving and enhancing the important relationships in your lives.

Take time to Think: Give some thought to the kind of occasion that you, your family and friends will feel comfortable with.

Let Go of Tradition: Forget about a tradition that may cause a family rift. You can, include a tradition that may mean a lot to someone important to you, like your grandparents.

Use Tact: We understand when adding others to the equation it can become a little uncomfortable at times. However, rely on tact and sensitivity when involving others, even stepparents and extended family members.

Be Accommodating: The elderly and physically challenged guests and children should always be considered when planning your wedding. You never want them to feel excluded.

Anticipate: Always be one step ahead, this is especially why planning is important. Take steps to avoid potential problems as much as possible.

God gave us a 2nd chance at loving each other whole heartedly. So, the Love we have for each other has no limits. We love hard and unconditionally. We tackle our faults and weaknesses as a team. With God leading the way, we have grown stronger through every obstacle. He has shown us how to move as a stronger unit.

The Wonderful World of Bouquets

THE FORMALITY AND SHAPE OF A BOUQUET GO HAND IN HAND.

Wedding Bouquets are a beautiful accent to your wedding gown. The formality and style of your wedding day determine the wedding attire and the flowers that complement it. It's helpful to know what is traditional for bridal flowers as you are planning.

What is the definition of Bouquets?

Bouquets are simply a cluster of flowers, tied together or anchored in a bouquet holder. The shape of the bouquet generally determines the best flowers to use.

BOUQUET SHAPES

Although, they're several types of bouquets, here are four basic bouquet shapes:

1. Nosegays- Circular, densely arranged array of flowers
2. Arm Bouquets- Crescent-shaped arrangements, curved slightly to fit the arm.
3. Cascades- a bouquet that cascades is one that gracefully trails blossoms and/or greens from its base. It can be any shape, from nosegay to tear-shaped, and looks best with a long gown.
4. Hand Tied- The stems of hand-tied bouquets are commonly tied with ribbon.
